

Mongolian Buddhism in Practice

Second international workshop on Mongolian Buddhism

April 24–25, 2017 – Budapest

Organized by

Ágnes Birtalan and Krisztina Teleki

Eötvös Loránd University

- Department of Mongol and Inner Asian Studies
- Research Centre for Mongol Studies
- Budapest Centre of Buddhist Studies

Hungarian Academy of Sciences

- Research Centre for the Humanities, Institute of Ethnology

Embassy of Mongolia in Hungary

Workshop venue

Eötvös Loránd University, Hungary
1088 Budapest, Múzeum krt. 4-6

Workshop languages

English, Mongolian, Russian

Please register before October 31, 2016 by sending the title of your presentation to Krisztina Teleki: krisztinateleki@yahoo.com

Following the success of the workshop “Mongolian Buddhism: Past, Present and Future” in April 2015, the second international forum “Mongolian Buddhism in Practice” is planned for April 2017 in Budapest. This forum is for scholars and monks to present their work on different aspects of Mongolian Buddhist practice. In accordance with speakers’ own specific research interests, presentations can cover any aspect of Mongolian Buddhism including monastic life, education, rites, religious texts, chanting, contemplation, the cult of objects of worship, connections with nature, devotees, other religions, and any other approaches of old and contemporary practices.

The workshop will focus not only on the Buddhism of Mongols living in the present area of Mongolia, but will cross the border to the beliefs and practices of Mongols living in China, Russia or other places in the diaspora. The distinctiveness of Mongolian Buddhism in practice will be revealed through presentations and round-table discussions. The scientific papers will be published in DVD or book format. The 2015 Workshop presentations will be available at the workshop.

The workshop will focus not only on the Buddhism of Mongols living in the present area of Mongolia, but will cross the border to the beliefs and practices of Mongols living in China, Russia or other places in the diaspora. The distinctiveness of Mongolian Buddhism in practice will be revealed through presentations and round-table discussions. The scientific papers will be published in DVD or book format. The 2015 Workshop presentations will be available at the workshop.